HEARING RULED 'IN ERROR'

Unification Takes a Step Backward

THE SAN MATEO County committee on School Reorganization is beginning 1964 by taking a few steps back in its attempt to unify five North county school districts into one.

The District Attorney's office has ruled that a public hearing held June 19 on a proposal to unify the elementary districts of Jefferson, Brisbane, Laguna Salada and Bayshore with the Jefferson Union High School district "was in error."

The District Attorney's office said the public hearing should have included not only unifying the five districts but also the organization of the combined district.

The augmented committee will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Westmoor High school library in Daly City to take a tentative final vote on the administration and organization of the proposed unified district.

Another public hearing now is tentatively scheduled for February 15. The date is expected to be charged, however because several school trustees plan to attend a national convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City, on that date.

A final vote on a unification proposal is scheduled for March 5.

THE UNIFICATION picture has changed considerably since the augmented committee took a tentative vote before the first public hearing in June.

On May 15 of last year, the four elementary school boards were solidly against the county committee's proposal to unify their districts into one encompassing the boundaries of the high school district.

The high school board vote for the proposal because it was "violently opposed" to a split of its district.

The vote was 11-4 with ten members of the 11-member board voting for the proposal. One committee member was absent.

Since that time, the county committee has been cut in numbers to nine. Losing their seats were Mrs. Helen Kerwin and William Platt, both of Atherton. They were considered leaders of the movement to unify by high school districts.

Elected to the county committee was Douglas Emory, an avowed advocate of smaller-sized districts.

THE JEFFERSON Elementary board has advocated a smaller unified district composed of Jefferson, Brisbane and Bayshore or Jefferson by itself.

Laguna Salada has proposed a "status quo" until the State legislature makes some sort of financial move to help the smaller districts. It would then like to unify on its own.

Brisbane has indicated it likes the Jefferson Elementary proposal, while Bayshore has adamantly opposed the unification principle.

San Mateo county was given a one-year extension to prepare a master plan for unification.

The committee has until September of this year to submit a plan to the State Board of Education. The plan will then be submitted to the voters.

If the plan is repected, it goes back to the county committee for further study.

SURVEY UNDER WAY

Post Office Is Proposed For Bayshore

A new substation of the Daly City Post Office may be opened in the former Bayshore City area within three or four months.

Daly City Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy disclosed this week that a survey is now being made of the postal needs of businesses and residents in the bayshore

Effective Saturday, January 18, Bayshore will be served by the Daly City Post office instead of by the San Francisco Post office.

Murphy said his office began last August to study postal service for the area.

A substation would be located in an existing building rather than in a new building to be constructed specifically for a post office, he explained.

The station would be the city's third. A headquarters station is located now at 31 Bepler avenue. It will be replaced by a new $240,000 facility, now under construction on Sullivan avenue between 88th and 89th srteets.

A second station is located at 201 Southgate avenue adjacent to the Westlake Shopping center.

Salary for Councilman Is Proposed

A salary for Pacifica councilmen and commissioners is being urged in a letter to the Pacifica Council by Howard Edminster, a former planning commissiner.

The letter will be considered at tonight's council meeting.

Edminster says city officials should be paid to compensate them for their time in giving proper attention to official duties.

He said that a factor in his resigning from the planning commission was that he was unable to give his job proper attention the day after a prolonged evening commission meeting.

Edminster has long been vocal in issues before the council.

In his letter, he also urged two issues be considered during this year: noise abatement and the possibility of underground electric service for the yet-undeveloped parts of Pacifica.

He also requested that any land annexed to the city be (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

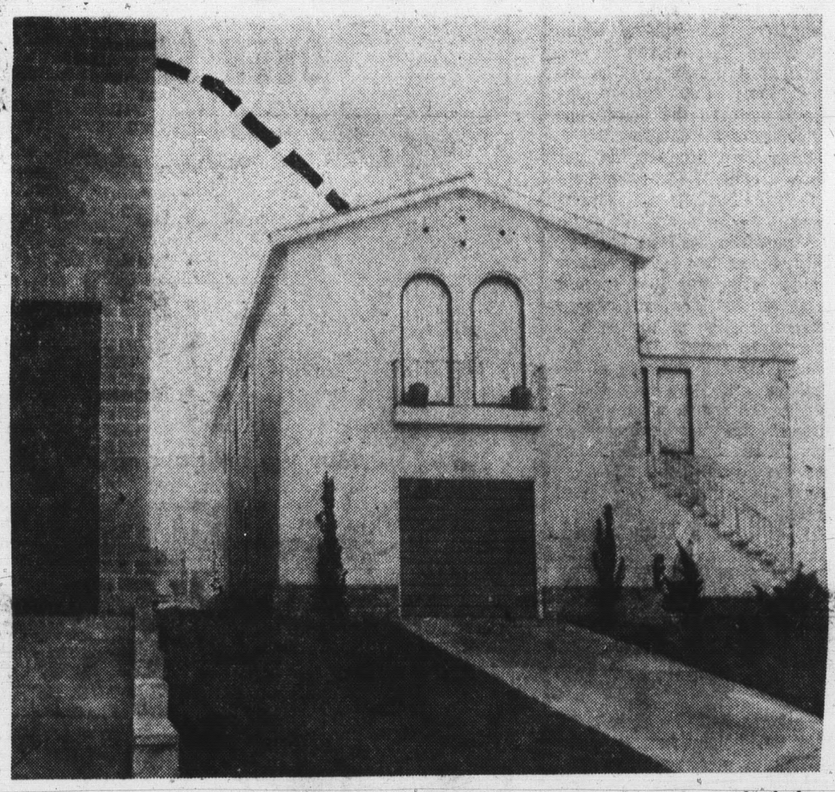
SSF Noise Protested

Tight law enforcement was promised a group of residents who appeared before South San Francisco city council last night to protest noise and trafifc near the Brentwood Bowl, 237 El Camino Real.

About 50 citizens crowded into the council chamber for the hour-long discussion.

Several residents complained of noisy groups, traffic noise and finding beer cans on their lawns. But a number of young people who patronize the Bowl got up to defend the patrons and dispute the residents' statements.

Speaking for the residents were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Marcus, 164 Northwood drive and Mrs. Mary Muehlman, 158 Northwood drive.



DOTTED LINE indicates a leap of 20 feet taken by a suspect arrested Monday night in connection with the fatal shooting of Broadmoor Police Officer Charles Manning.

The suspect jumped from the roof of the New Mission Heating and Plumbing company at 1111 Hillside boulevard in Broadmoor to the roof of the house next door.

Center Seen In Westlake

San Mateo County Manager Robert Stallings said Monday that negotiations for a temporary North county mental health facility in Westlake are currently under way.

No definite commitments have been made however, he emphasized.

If the county can come to terms with the owner of the property under consideration, the lease contract would go to the board of supervisors for approval in the near future, he indicated.

An opening date of January 1 originally had been set.

The board of supervisors voted to establish the long-sought day care center in the north county after Stallings learned (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Merchants Seek School Change

A group of merchants from the St. Francis Square Shopping center in Daly City appeared at Monday night's meeting of the Jefferson Elementary school board to ask that a proposed union high school near the center be moved elsewhere.

The board listened to the merchants without comment and later instructed Superintendent Richard T. Foster to proceed with scheduled plans and file condemnation suit on the property involved.

The merchants said the school would be built on property they had been told would be for apartments.

Don A. Morin of 21 Lake Vista avenue, owner of a coin-operated laundry, said that "a school in our back yard would ruin the center." And he added:

"Soon there won't be enough people to support the center. Several of us have long leases. Some of us will have to fold up."

Morin asked if the school could be moved further away from the shopping center.

"Otherwise," he said, "we're going to have a ghost-town shopping center."

Morin also asked the district to reconsider opposition to a group of multiple dwelling proposed for Eastmoor avenue near Westmoor High school.

Foster said last week that the (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

College Youth Arrested at Death Scene

By VIRGIL WILSON and DON MILLER

A 19-year-old Fresno City college student was being held today on a charge of murdering a Broadmoor police officer who had surprised him stealing gasoline about 11:40 Monday night.

The policeman, Charles E. Manning, 43, who lived in Colma, was felled with six shots—five in the back and one in the chest—when he surprised the suspect in the New Mission Heating and Plumbing company at Hillside boulevard and Sylvan street in Broadmoor.

The suspect, Timothy Lee Silva of San Francisco, insisted he did not kill the officer but that the shots had been fired by a stranger who had gone with him to steal gasoline from a pump at the New Mission company.

Silva suffered multiple injuries, including cuts and bruises and a possible concussion, in an abortive attempt to escape after the shooting and while wrestling with officers after his capture.

Sheriff's Capt. Don Hartnett and Lt. M. U. Craik pieced together this account of what happened:

Earlier in the evening, Silva and his married brother, Anthony, 20, had worked on Timothy's car to get it ready for a night trip to Fresno, where he was to return to school today. Timothy then visited his girl friend, Rita Carrera, 18, of San Francisco, and told her he was going to a coffee shop, then drive to Fresno.

Silva went instead to the New Mission company, backed his car up to a side door and opened it with a key he had used when employed by a jani- (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

A New Mayor Of Daly City To Be Named

A Councilman Also to Be Seated

A new mayor and a new councilman top Monday night's agenda for the Daly City council meeting.

Vice-Mayor Michael DeBernardi is expected to move up to replace Joseph Verducci as mayor. Verducci's resignation became effective January 1.

The council is expected to swear in Albert Polonsky, chairman of the personnel board, as councilman to complete the remainder of Verducci's term, which ends in April.

Verducci resigned, effective January 1, to devote his time to running for the county board of supervisors.

In other action, the council will hold the first hearing of a new zoning ordinance for Daly City. The major technical project, updating zoning laws and techniques, was initiated last year.

A public hearing on the annexation of a square block of homes adjacent to Callen Heights will be held. The an- (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

PROPOSAL LIKELY TONIGHT

Pacifica Annexation Is Studied

By LOIS McNALLY

A PROPOSAL that Pacifica move toward annexing the entire north slope water shed area of San Pedro mountain, just south of its present boundaries, is likely to be made this evening at the city council meeting by Mayor Harold Feyge.

Feyge has just completed a comprehensive report on the land south of Pacifica and the possibility of annexing each parcel.

Feyge said he personally located and contacted each of the 12 land owners involved and concludes that "approximately 200 acres added to the acreage already committed would permit annextion of the entire watershed area."

The additional 200 acres, Feyge proposes, could be added by annexation of the Green Valley area which lies between two forks of the San Pedro range and is owned by the Doelger corporation.

Doelger has indicated he is agreeable to annexation, reports Feyge, which would bring the Pacifica boundaries to the southwest ridge of San Pedro range and a total of 2400 acres to Pacifica.

FEYGE FOUND that among the owners of land on the north slope of San Pedro mountain is the city and county of San Francisco.

San Francisco holds 475 acres in which the water flow is towards Pacifica and not contributing to the San Francisco water reserve, lakes, reservoirs or holding basins.

Feyge said that San Francisco officials told him it was intended to eventually sell the acreage at public auction.

While the San Francisco officials told Feyge they saw no reason to annex and pay a higher tax rate, he said they later gave him a verbal assurance they would not oppose annexation if all north slope lands were annexed at the same time.

Definitely opposing annexation are the owners of the 318 acre Denman property which includes Shamrock Ranch and the 25 acre Gay parcel which was the site of a former trout farm.

The Coastside Sportsmen own 85 acres and their spokesman, James Fox, has indicated they would be willing to annex to Pacifica, Feyge reported.

In addition to the Green Valley acreage, Doelger corporation has indicated a willingness to annex 410 acres known as the lands of Tharp.

FOR APARTMENTS

DC Planners to Hear Zoning Bid

Rezoning of property near Westmoor High school for the construction of 800 apartment units will be discussed Tuesday by the Daly City Planning commission.

A petition for rezoning filed by developer Gus Pedemonte, was withdrawn last month after the Jefferson Elementary School district asked for more information and City Engineer William Chapman suggested changes in parking plans.

Pedemonte has proposed to build 200 apartment houses with four units in each on 25-foot lots south of Eastmoor avenue and east of Westmoor High school.

The school district expressed concern over the apartment development, called Eastmoor Park, because of its effect on enrollments at nearby schools.

Chapman suggested that parking would be facilitated by constructing alleys and garages behind the apartments so that curbing could be installed in front for guest parking.

In other action concerning schools, the commission will consider a request from Stolte incorporated, an Oakland construction firm, to rezone property south of St. Francis square from single family and unclassified to multiple dwelling.

The elementary school district hopes to build a junior high school on part of the property.

At the last commission meeting, Paul Faberman, representing the construction firm, said if condemnation proceedings were not instituted by the next meeting, he hoped the commission would take action on the rezoning application.

In other major action, the commission will discuss:

A use permit for John L. Parris of 666 Skyline drive to erect a 55-foot radio tower.

A use permit for Leo Fratessa of 30 Parkside avenue, to construct apartments in an unclassified district at the end of Westbrae drive.

A rezoning petition filed by E. T. Komsthoeft of San Carlos to rezone property west of Wellington avenue from R-1, C-2 and unclassified to R-3.

A tentatrve map filed by Pedemonte for Gambetta Park one at the northerly end of Lausanne avenue.

A rezoning petition filed by Pedemonte to rezone property at the end of Vendome avenue from R-1 to R-3.

School Site Criticized by Merchants

district was concerned about the effect of the apartments on schools enrollment in the vicinity.

Charles Mabardy of 386 Lakeshire drive, owner of dry cleaning store, said there have been five changeovers in stores at St. Francis and the center is only about a year old.

Al Carapiet, who is planning to open a hardware store in the center, said that the flow of traffic in the center is small because of the undeveloped area behind it.

"Unless apartments are built there, the center will die," he said.

John Mullen, owner of a liquor store in the center, said there is a state law that says liquor stores can't be within 200 feet of a school.

A bar has been approved for the center and the same law says that there can't be a school within 600 feet.

"That law should work both ways," he said.

Stolte incorporated, an Oakland construction firm, has asked the Daly City Planning commission to rezone the property for apartments.

Paul Faberman, representing the firm, said he hoped the commission would make a decision if condemnation proceedings were not filed by the district by the January 14 meeting.

In other action, the board named a school under construction in east Daly City the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Elementary school.

In other action the board:

Accepted an audit from the Warren G. LeForte on the 1962-62 school year.

Initiated proceedings to have the Franklin Delano Roosevelt school excluded from Pacifica and annexed to Daly City.

Adopted a policy setting the workday of women at eight hours.

Fair Housing Act Debated In Pacifica

A minister and a real estate broker debated the merits of the Rumford Fair Housing Act Friday night in Pacifica at an open meeting sponsored by the Pacifica Republican assembly.

President Emory Lebonville said Pacifica Republicans would take no stand on the issue, but at the conclusion of the debate invited members to sign the petitions of their choice, either supporting the initiative or the act.

More than 60 persons were present at the meeting. In support of the legislation, Rev. Vernon Alexander of the Pedro Valley Presbyterian church, said the Rumford Act is needed to break the circle of buck-passing that fosters racial discrimination in housing.

"The real estate agents blame it on the public and the homeowner blames it on his neighbor, and everyone has a good excuse," Rev. Alexander asserted.

George Edsell, a Pacifica reator, said that more than 300 people have come voluntarily into his office to sign the petition advocating the initiative. Edsell claimed that if the measure is submitted to the people, it will be resoundingly defeated as was the Berkeley ordinance on fair housing.

"The times demand we do something tangible about racial discrimination now," argued Rev. Alexander. "People in the ghetto pay more per square foot for housing than we in the suburbs do in spite of the fact that it's terrible housing."

Negro children see crime as the only way out of the ghetto, he said. "If Negroes can move to better housing through education and better jobs, children will have new heroes."

The Rumford Act is not creeping socialism, Rev. Alexander argued.

"I am willing to have some of my property rights limited by law for the good of the country."

Salary for Councilmen Is Proposed

planned economically to support the extra municipal, school and water services required so that they will not be a burden to taxpayers.

Likely to bring a protest from the Pacific Chamber of Commerce is a recommendation by City Manager Karl Baldwin that the council accept a San Mateo firm's low bid of $5386 for three Plymouth station wagons.

In the past, the chamber has asked the council to buy all police cars locally. A Pacifica firm, Howard Cuyler Chevrolet, bid $5890.

A memo from Park, Beach and Recreation commission chairman Sheila Hyman has asked that the council look into an assertion by a recent citizen's committee studying freeway landscaping that "cities that donate money, materials or service — particularly water—toward landscaping are much more likely to receive state assistance than those that do not."

In other matters, the commission is recommending that the council lease White Field in Linda Mar from the Pillar of Fire church for a year at a rental of one dollar plus $838 in taxes.

In the past, the city has split the tax burden with the church. The ten-acre field is used for a baseball diamond and recreation ground.

This evening, the Pacifica council also will take up a recommendation from its Personnel Advisory board that firemen be granted overtime pay at time and a half.

A claim for $302 damages from William White of San Bruno will be presented. White drove his car into an open ditch at the intersection of Tunis way and West Avalon drive. He states in his claim that the intersection was unmarked, unlighted and unbarricaded.

A complaint will be heard from Donald Wright of 1520 Adobe drive that there is a six-inch difference in elevation between his driveway and a new sidewalk installed by the city contractor.

Councilmen will be asked to grant a $75 monthly pay increase to the city's chief building inspector, Richard Taylor. Taylor was hired a year ago at $700.

The City Safety committee is asking that a two-hour parking zone be established on San Francisco boulevard between Carmel and Paloma.

City Engineer Al Roberts will report on the skin-diving training program initiated this year for engineering and sewage treatment plant personnel.

torial firm. The gas pump was just inside the door.

Officer Manning was suspicious of Silva's car and stopped to check. First he asked for a "hot check" and learned that the car was not stolen. Then he radioed that he was going in the building. A private patrolman, Irv Schwartz, headed for the scene.

At 11:40 p.m. Daly City police dispatcher Charles Machinot heard this call from Manning: "This is Broadmoor 55. I've been shot. Suspect still in building. New Mission plumbing."

Officers from all north county jurisdictions converged on the scene. First to arrive was Schwartz, who found Manning sprawled on the front seat of his patrol car, dead. His service revolver, from which two bullets had been fired, was on the ground beside the open door.

It was quickly ascertained that the suspect had ran into the building and had gotten out through a skylight. He apparently cut his right hand badly in breaking through the skylight. Then he ran across the roof and leaped some 10 feet onto the roof of an adjoining two story house, the home of Mrs. Vera Hochede and her two daughters, 1135 Hillside boulevard. Mrs. Hochede ran out saying that a prowler was on the roof. Daly City Officer Jay Makin entered the house and brought out the daughter.

Silva then dropped his gun down a vent. It was found later on the floor of the laundry room.

Meanwhile, the Daly City Fire Department had set up searchlights. Silva was soon spotted, lying on his stomach, peering over the edge of the roof. A fire department ladder was placed against the side of the building and Daly City Police Officer Alex Sola went up and ordered the suspect to surrender Silva cimbed down the ladder. But, when handcuffs were being placed on him, he began to fight and had to be subdued.

When Silva told the officers that the shooting was done by another person, the area was blocked off by the 20 to 30 officers on the scene and a thorough search was organized. Two police dogs were used in the search, which turned up nothing.

Hartnett and Craik said they determined later to their satisfaction that Silva was alone.

James Neptune, who lives across the street from where the shooting occurred, said he heard shots and ran to his bedroom window. He said he saw Officer Manning come out of the building. He was crouched over and was holding his stomach. The officer, Neptune said, fell across the seat of the car and he heard him radio for help. Neptune said he did not see any one else leave the building. In addition, it was found that three doors of Silva's car were locked, indicating that no one had been with him.

that the county had to spend $87,000 for new facilities or lose $300,000 in state aid.

The board increased the mental health budget from $1,517,909 to $1,977,085 this year because new amendments to the Short-Doyle Act, passed at the last session of the legislature, called for stepped up programs in the mental health field.

Counties that expand their programs will be eligible for a 75 per cent reimbursement. The old regulations called for a 50 per cent reimbursement.

Dr. Harold Chope, county director of the Department of Health and Welfare, and Dr. Joseph Downing, program chief, will handle the administrative details of the new center.

It will serve the cities of Daly City, San Bruno, South San Francisco, Brisbane, Colma and Pacifica.

Extensive home developments in this area have brought the population to be served up to almost 170,000.

Rumford Act Talk Planned

The Rumford Fair Housing Act and the proposed repeal initiative will be discussed at the first meeting of 1964 of the Daly City-Colma Democratic club.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in Garden Village school, Daly City.

Rod Larson, Northern California representative of the Task Force for Civil Rights, will be the principal speaker.

New officers of the club are: Ruben Pepper, president; Josephnie Arena, vice president; Pauline Rief, recording secretary; Mary C. Driscoll, corresponding secretary, and Wesley Becker, treasurer.

John Zapian was reappointed club parliamentarian.

GOP Assembly Plans Session

The North Peninsula Republican assembly will hold its first meeting of the year at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Robert Hunter of 127 Palisades drive in Daly City.

The organizational meeting will be held to discuss candidates in upcoming elections throughout the county. More information may be obtained by calling PL 5-5677.

TO THE EDITOR:

A recent letter to the editor by a Pacifica resident states that "there is a distinct impression that someone is trying to sell Pacificans a strange bill of goods," and goes on to describe a recent meeting held in support of the United Nations.

This meeting, which opened with a civilian salute to the flag rather than the Pledge of Allegiance, included in its program a Boy Scout Troop singing a Czechoslovakian folk song.

These "sins" of omission and commission created the proverbial "tempest in a teapot" in our little city where the patriotism of the organizer was questioned by an intolerant few.

This, in spite of the fact that the meeting was opened in an appropriate and approved show of respect to our country.

It is time that these well-meaning individuals realize that love-of-country can be expressed in many different ways.

To some of us, patriotism is akin to religion — something highly personal that is carried within us and professed quietly in our day-to-day home life. Perhaps our way is different, but it is in no way inferior.

The criticism of the scouts singing a Czechoslovakian folk song is beyond belief! It is my understanding that the Czechs are not exactly enthusiastic about their present form of government.

If this is the case, is there any justice in forbidding any traces of the Czech's former culture in the USA?

With this type of reasoning, we can expect to see the works of Shostakovich, Tchaikovsky, Rimski-Korsakov, et al., removed from all symphonic repertoires, and especially so in any tax-supported concert halls.

We would all do well to look back on the events of the thirties in Nazi Germany where libraries were purged of all un-German books written by non-Aryan authors and ceremoniously burned in huge bonfires.

This intolerance, leading to the murder of millions of Jews, and the ensuing war, should have been a lesson to all.

Unfortunately, events in the South and the recent loss of our beloved President would indicate the lesson was not a lasting one.

OLD COAST HIGHWAY

House Delays Pacifica Road

A house scheduled to be moved over the old Coast highway from Belcrest avenue in Westlake Terrace to Pacific Manor is delaying completion of reconstruction of the highway, Pacifica Assistant City Engineer Barry Roth said this week.

Pete Periera of Trost Brothers House Moving company has been granted permission to move the two-story, 44 by 48-foot house over the roadbefore it is paved to avoid damage, Roth said.

The road was repaired with federal funds this fall after being washed out during a heavy September storm a year ago.

The house is being moved from 1625 Sullivan avenue in Colma by way of Eastmoor and Westmoor avenues Skyline drive and the Coast road to the corner of Norfolk place and Monterey road, Pacifica.

Roth said that with good weather, the road will be paved within a week to ten days after the house is moved.

IT'S ABOUT time, we feel, that schools such as Cal and Stanford stop implying that their football woes can be traced to their stiff academic requirements.

If anything, institutions such as these should be stronger because of their rigid expectancies.

The stereotype of the dumb Hercules should be thrown out. If you wish to deal in generalities, reversing that stereotype would bring you closer to the truth of what a fine athlete is like.

As a school teacher, we have found, generally, that the strongest, healthiest bodies belong to the strongest, healthiest minds.

And because we've dabbled in athletics for many years, we know that a football coach, for instance, can bring more out of a team if he can spend less time on teaching book-plays per se and more time on the physical basics of blocking and tackling.

It makes sense to reason that an intelligent athlete who learns the technical aspects of the game quickly will then have more time to concentrate solely on winning.

IT NEVER ceases to shock us when we hear of big, strong, "old pro" athletes openly weeping after a tough loss—such as Y. A. Tittle reportedly did after the recent NFL championship game.

We can see high school athletes doing it; even easily imagine rah-rah college boys breaking down.

But 37-year-old Tittle

Come to think of it, maybe it wasn't the loss itself so much as the loss of the difference of $1800 dollars between the winning and losing teams' shares.

Now that, Y.A., we can understand.

WHILE STILL on the subject of that pro title tilt, we feel that Los Angeles columnist Melvin Durslag wrote a very significant piece about the Chicago-based affair when he said that paying fans were cheated of true professional football and instead relegated to a sham of the game because of terrible weather conditions.

While we regret Mr. Durslag's parallelling of Candlestick's wind with Wrigley Field's snow, we couldn't otherwise agree more with him.

Football fans are too often treated to wet seats and inferior football because officials refuse to hand out rain checks.

If it's good enough for baseball, we say, it's good enough for football.

READING several weeks ago of the Detroit trade of Gus Triandos (wintering as a salesman in a local sporting goods store) to Philadelphia brought old memories rushing back.

Gus and I attended the same high school in San Francisco—Mission—although several years apart.

When we were in the eighth grade, Gus was already hitting .323 at Twin Falls and on his way to a major league career. Even then, at 18, Gus was already a legend at Mission.

He had been the heart of Mission's famed high school "murderers row"—on a team in which first stringer and even several of the bench-warmers signed pro contracts.

Signed by the Yankees, Gus never had a chance against Yogi Berra and so eventually made himself a star with Baltimore. Ironically, he's still deadlocked with Berra for the American league record for home runs in one season by a catcher, 30. Gus hit his in 1958, two years after Berra.

But we best remember Gus, not for his American league homer feats, but for his long-ball swatting at now non-existent (freeways, you know) Father Crowley playground, better known as just plain Harrison, on Eighteenth and Harrison streets in San Francisco.

Father Crowley playground, which spawned darned near as many major leaguers as more fabled Golden Gate park, was Mission's home grounds.

There were three diamonds on the square-block park, the main one being the Harrison diamond on Harrison street. There were two smaller diamonds bordering Bryant, clear across the other side of the park.

Whenever someone managed to hit one as far as the infield on the Bryant diamond, which was dead behind the left-fielder on the Harrison diamond, it was considered quite a long-ball feat.

Gus, for the first few years he was in pro ball, participated in the annual Mission varsity-alumni game. One year he hit one on a short bounce AGAINST THE WALL on the street side of the left-field Bryant diamond—an entire city block away from where he was standing when he connected.

This wasn't enough, though. A year or two later in the same alumni-varsity game, we watched Gus whack one over the roof of the clubhouse in dead center field. The clubhouse was adjacent to the other Bryant diamond, which was in left-center field in relation to the Harrison diamond.

There are those around who still remember those legendary Triandos pokes. And now it sort of makes one feel a little bit creaky in the bones to realize that Triendos is now perhaps in the twilight of a career that was perhaps too injury-riddled to really match those Father Crowley playground bangos on a major league level.

But if ol' Gus never catches regularly again, we thank him for those earlier feats, which were to a teenager something to talk and think about and plan to emulate, as long as such bits of baseball lore help keep kids from thinking about the exciting exploits of Capone, Nitti and Dillinger.

HIGH SCHOOL tag-ends: It's a little late, but we never did get around to mentioning that several Jefferson district boys did quite well for the College of San Mateo football squad in 1963.

Former Terra Nova linemen Mike Lally, Gary Prince and Bill Whalen, helped lead the way for ex-Jeff High backs Sam Ennon and Jim Blevin.

Three Tall Tigers

Terra Nova Seeks a Playmaker for 1964

By RON BATES

TERRA NOVA'S Coach Rich Burt was still looking for a playmaker last week to lead his Tigers in the 1964 North Peninsula league basketball race when it officially gets underway next week.

Graduation last June was unkind to the Pacifica school, completely depleting it of a strong trio of guards—notably all-league John Lieuallen, fifth highest scorer in the NPL and the Tigers' playmaker.

"Lieuallen was the guy that molded the team last year," Burt said.

The strength of the club this year has moved to the front lines with the return of first string forward Jim Smith and center Rich Schaefer. Also returning is forward Marty Coil, an active reserve on last year's team.

Schaefer, at 6-3, was the team's top rebounder and received an honorable mention on the 1963 All-NPL squad.

Smith, who sometimes plays guard, was the team's second best player for Terra Nova last year, according to Burt. The 6-1 senior "has a lot of potential, but has been slow in coming around" this year, the coach added.

THE TEAM'S most steady player and consistent scorer in seven practice games this season has been Coil, a 6-2 senior.

"Coil is 100 per cent improved over last year," Burt said. "He sprained an ankle in the second league game then and never fully recovered."

Starting at the guard spot in the Tiger practice games so far as been Hank Dajenais, "a fine little ball player" (5-9) who has moved up from the C-squad," Burt said.

At the other guard slot, it has been a tossup between Roger Ebert, up from the junior varsity, and Jack Bresnahan.

Bresnahan made the all-league team as a lightweight last season and was the "most valuable player" on both the B and C teams that he played on at Terra Nova. Bresnahan had an amazing 87 per cent average on free throws last year, Burt said.

Whenever Smith moves to guard, Dick Barrot is given the starting role at the forward slot, Burt said. Barrot is up from the jayvees.

PUSHING SCHAEFER at the center slot is George Mason, son of the former mayor of Pacifica. Mason, 6-5, has started four games for Burt and has been doing "a good job," his coach says.

Fighting for forward spots are John Miller and Ray Kaufman. At guard, Pat Lawson and Lyle Hirsh are vying for starting positions.

Burt will have a starting five whose height is just under six feet. He feels that the team can hold its own in rebounding.

"We're a slow team," he said. "The players are often outmaneuvered on the boards by smaller, quicker men. In the seven practice games, though, we out-rebounded most of our opponents."

Taking a look at the other teams in the league, Burt picks Jefferson to take the place of South San Francisco in fighting it out with Westmoor for the title.

El Camino and Oceana will follow, with Oceana being the surprise club of the league, he predicted.

"Terra Nova and South City will fight to see who keeps out of the cellar," Burt said. "Although we're improved, we have to do a lot more before we can be considered contenders."

The Terra Nova coach said the team "was jelling" in the Buchser tournament just before Christmas vacation. With the 16 day break, though, the players may have lost the edge they had gained. The NPL prohibits practice during the Christmas vacation.

Bulldogs Start Play

The College of San Mateo opened its Golden Gate Conference basketball season this week with a former South San Francisco High school star in the starting lineup.

He's Dick Drake who led the old Peninsula league in scoring three seasons ago.

The Bulldogs were scheduled to play Chabot last night. At 8 p.m. Friday, they will be at home for Contra Costa.

During pre-season play in December, San Mateo lost only to Cabrillo.

This season, our teams are rated as title contenders: co-defending champions City College of San Francisco, and Oakland City college, CSM and San Jose City college.

Pacific Manor Wins 4th in Row

Pacific Manor won its fourth straight game in the Pacifica Co-ed Volleyball league, downing the Left-Overs, 4-2.

The Linda Martians captured their second league win by defeating the A-OK's, 4-2. The Nettles took over first place with a forfeit win from the Pelicans.

The league is sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department.

Adult Cage Loop Slated

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department will sponsor an adult basketball league Monday evenings, starting February 10.

The league is now being formed.

Players interested in the league must live or work in the City of Pacifica and be 25 years of age or more.

Games will be played in the gymnasium of Oceana High school. The gymnasium will be open from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays for registration until the start of play.

Rams Favored in NPL Tournament

N. County Sports

The North Peninsula league will stage its second annual basketball tournament tomorrow through Saturday at South San Francisco High school.

The Westmoor Rams, preseason favorites to take the regular season championship this year, will also be favored to take their second tournament crown in succession.

In the tournament's first round, the Rams will draw a bye along with South San Francisco's Warriors.

Terra Nova and El Camino will open the tournament at 3:15 tomorrow. In a second game tomorrow, the Jefferson Indians will meet the Oceana Sharks at 4:30 p.m.

Westlake Bowl

IRWIN SMITH put three good games together and posted a terrific 650 series in the Goden Gate Handicap league. His high game was a 234 effort.

Another 234 game was rolled in the 815 Scratch league as Charles Martucci led the league with a 570 series.

Once again, the Canco league registered some high scores as Ruth Mort set a new high game record for ladies with 233 while Chuck York led the league for the week with a 237 game and 642 series.

The California Trophy team currently leads the Westlake quaifying round in the Northern California Women's Team Handicap tournament with a 2940 total. In second place with 2906 is the State Sheet Metal team. The qualifying round ends Sunday.

Harry Hood topped the Blue Monday Scratch league for the week with a 608 series on a high game of 239.

Next Saturday night at 7 p.m., the second squad of a Christmas tournament will be held at Westlake. Competing for the first prize of a 1964 MG sport sedan will be the 48 class winners. The third and fourth squads will bowl Sunday at 1 and 7 p.m. at Serra Bowl and Castle Lanes.

Leading the Starliters for the week was Boots Toohey with a 186 game and 528 series.

Jules Cohen was the B'nai B'rith bowler of the week as he rolled a 596 series on a high game of 225.

In the Marche Club league, Nino Aliventi made a comeback to take top honors with a 222 game and 584 series.

NOW IN PROGRESS at Westlake is a "beat your average" tournament with a separate prize fund for each night. After the completion of the 9 p.m. leagues each night, those competing in the tournament bowl two games and if their total is more than their average as shown on that night's league sheets, they qualify for a monthly rolloff, which is held during the last week of the month. The prize fund is divided into four prizes: 40 per cent, 30 per cent, 20 per cent and 10 per cent. Entry fee is $2 for two games.

Chuck Mina not only won the Friday Jackpot Sweeper with a 702 total, but went on to retain his King of the Hill title five strikes to three.

Our Junior 900 team ends the first half of the Bay Area Junior Masters league next Sunday evening when members bowl the Millbrae team at Serra Bowl at 6 p.m. A large rooting section would be of great help to them.

The deadline for entries in the 1964 ABC tournament is getting closer. There are only a few days left to enter this prestige tournament, often called the World Series of bowling. Three are still openings in the two Westlake Bowl squads March 4 and 12.

Our junior bowlers took five of the six matches in the second half of a "home and home" series with Moonlite Bowl juniors.

Sea Bowl

NEW YEAR'S EVE at the Sea Bowl was an event that will be long remembered. It was truly one of the most pleasant evenings my spouse and I have spent in a long time. The food preparation was in excellent taste, everything to delight the most fastidious appetities. The music and dancing in the new Spindrift room was just wonderful. In fact, I haven't enjoyed dancing in such a spacious area so much, in a long time.

In most of the night spots, it's sort of like musical chairs. If you're one of the fortunate ones who gets to the dance floor before the mobs set in, you may dance to a few bars of the music but are usually so exhausted from the elbow knocking, back bumping, toe stepping, etc., you give it up as a lost cause.

The bowling lanes and billiard room had some very lovely decorations. Girls participating in both areas dressed in fashion show type gowns. Never thought I'd see that day that I would bowl in brocade and rhinestones. Now down to league business:

Ladies Thursday Scratch: Betsy Gardner had the high game of 190-492. The high series of 180-511 was bowled by Judy Maasberg. Nina Walsh had the first and only turkey. Peggy Schlothan of the Yawner league shot the high game of 165-448. Rita Harris had the big series with a 168-558. The team in the lead for game and series is Awards Unlimited with a 518-1501.

Incidentally, the Yawners are in need of two permanent women bowlers. You need not have a bluebook or current 21-game average as it is a handicap league. All you need is a good sense of humor and real love of bowling. There are a real nice group of girls in this league so if you are interested, call Ruth Sealy, secretary of the league at 355-2476.

John Jones of the Sea Breeze league bowled the big series of 180-519. Dalas Dodey had the high game of 211. Gino Nerl is really a celebrtiy this week as he bowled one of the biggest games and series of the year on the Sea Bowl Classic league. Gino chalked them up 220-264-173 for the grand total of 657. King and Queens: Another big game bowled was Jim Campbell with a 244-616 for both the high game and series.

Glamour Grammy's: Ellie Payne really shot high for the game and series honor with a great big 245-540. This was Ellie's best game since the bowl opened nearly five years ago. Tavern: Pacer Hal Duncan led the league for both top honors with a 233-604. Pacifica Traveers: Secretary Hank Felty was sporrting the big game and series of the evening.

Ben Franklin Reaches San Bruno Cage Finals

Benjamin Franklin school's seventh and eighth grade basketball teams played in the San Bruno Holiday Invtiational tournament and each team gained the finals of their grade divisions.

GRADY PROCTOR
All Tournament

The seventh grade team won both of its preliminary games by downing St. Roberts, 42-11, and St. Catherines, 39-19.

However, the club lost the championship game to Parkside school, 28-19. Benjamin Franklin's Steve Powell was named to an All-Tournament team.

In the eighth grade, Benjamin Franklin beat St. Roberts, 41-8, and St. Catherines, 32-31, in preliminary games. Ben Franklin again played Parkside school in the championship contest. The lead changed hands throughout the game before Parkside ultimately prevailed, 32-27. Grady Proctor was high for Ben Franklin with 10 points. He was named to an All-tourney team.

Kleppers Take Championship in D.C. Yule Classic

The Kleppers ruled this week as champions of the Daly City Recreation department's second annual Yuletide Basketball classic.

The champs gained the crown Friday by turning back the Huck Doon Pods in a thriller, 38-36, in the War Memorial Community center.

Led by John Bennett, named later as the tournament's most valuable player, the Kleppers withstood a late Huck Doon rally to gain victory.

Bennett's rebounding and clutch baskets in the final quarter helped the Kleppers to the crown.

In earlier games, the Kleppers, paced by Bennett and guard Ed Perry, broke a number of tournament records in downing the Chargers, 84-46, and the Dons, 34-32.

Gary Ciolino was named the tournament's most sportsmanlike player as he led the Juck Doon Pods to their second place finish.

Earlier, Ciolino, All-Tournament player Steve Drago and Jim Orlich led the Pods to wins over the Badgers, 35-18, and the OLPH Gaels and consolation round champion Clodhoppers. Orlich paced the Pods with 41 points in four games.

In the consolation round, the Clodhoppers eased by an inspired Red Hot Choleys II club, 29-27, to take the round. The winners were paced by Jerry Benson and Al Nammany. Ron Fisicaro dumped in nine clutch points in the final game for the winners.

Rich Terry of the losers set tournament and game rebounding records in the round.

After their first round defeat by the Huck Doon Pods, the Clodhoppers stopped the Beach Bums and the Warriors to reach the finals. The Choleys stopped the Drifters and the Bohemians to reach the final game.

Others named to the All-Tournament team in addition to Bennett, Ciolino, Perry, Drago, Terry and Benson were Fred Spring, Chargers; Ray Caperman, Badgers; John Quezada, OLPH Gaels; Paul Richards, Brisbane Winos and Larry Monti and Claude Munday of the Dons.

Most Rebounds—Game: 31 (22), Rich Terry, Red Hot Choleys II. Most Rebounds—Tournament: 77 (47), Rich Terry, Red Hot Choleys II.

Most Fouls: 15 (14), Earl Rochlin, Bohemians.

Patrick Cards Hole-in-One

Jack Patrick, assistant to professional Bob Silvestri, fired a hole-in-one on the 13th green at Cypress Hills Golf course Saturday.

Patrick used a six-iron to record the ace on the 156-yard hole. Witnesses were Ray Guisti and Victor Santa Maria.

NOTICE

SCAVENGERS ASK COOPERATION ON CHRISTMAS TREE DISPOSAL

Residents preparing to discard Christmas trees are urged by the Daly City Scavenger Co., Inc. to cooperate on their disposal. Homeowners are asked to break or cut larger trees into 3-foot lengths, tie them securely and place them next to the can on their regular garbage pickup day. This is a free service, as specified above.

A REGULAR PICK-UP CHARGE WILL BE MADE FOR TREES NOT CUT UP

D. C. Rec Action on Saturday

Action begins Saturday in the annual fifth and sixth grade basketball leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

Fifth grade play begins at the War Memorial Community center gym with two divisions of eight and nine teams playing.

In the long division of the fifth grade league, the OLM Bears, coached by Jack Gilligan, are favored to set the pace. The Bears have a year of Catholic Youth Organization league experience.

George Pedroni's PAL Tigers, with Vince Haymaker, are expected to give the Bears tough competition. Also competing for the title will be Jerry Murphy's OLPH Arrows, Jim Wytt's PAL Pirates, Mike Eagan's PAL Cougars, Joe Dillon's Holy Angel Hotshots, Bob Foppiano's OLM Spartans, Ron Kruger's PAL Rams and John Urrutia's BYA Ramblers.

In Saturday's schedule, Hotshots versus Rams at 10 a.m.; Spartans versus Cougars at 11:30 a.m.; Arrows versus Ramblers at 1 p.m.; Pirates vrsus Bears at 2:30 p.m.; and the Tigers draw a bye.

In the short division, Wyatt's Gillicudey's BYA Bender Roofing Kittens have the edge in personnel with Jay Flynn's OLM Indians the dark horse. Ed Denning has entered two OLPH teams.

Also competing are Pedroni's PAL Jaguars, Nick Napp's PAL Panthers and Kruger's PAL Grizzlies.

Saturday's schedule has Indians versus Jaguars at 10 a.m., Bobcats versus Panthers at 11:30 a.m., Condors versus Grizzlies at 1 p.m. and Kittens versus Buccaneers at 2:30 p.m.

In the sixth grade league, Dick English's OLM Dons are favored to repeat as champions. They took the fifth grade title with veterans Steve Becker, Glen Phillips, Joe Tamboni, Don Gordon, and Pat Green. Rich Brewer's PAL Eagles, with Lary Belfrage and Fretto Balletto, will be tough contenders.

Saturday's schedule at Westmoor High school gym has PAL Royals versus OLM Broncos at 10 a.m.; Bayshore Thunderbolts versus PAL Bullets at 11:30 a.m.; Holy Angels versus OLPH Golds at 1 p.m.; PAL Falcons versus OLM Gaels at 2:30 p.m. and PAL Eagles versus OLM Dons at 2:30 p.m.

FOR COLTS, WARRIORS

Soccer League to Resume

Soccer returns to the sports scene this week at two North county schools.

The South San Francisco Warriors and the El Camino Colts will begin play in the Invitational Peninsula High school league Friday.

In addition to the two South San Francisco schools, the league comprises Serra, Woodside-Priory and Menlo-Atherton.

League soccer bowed on the high school level on the Peninsula only four years ago with three teams participating.

Since then, nearly a dozen schools have taken up the sport and five of them have formed their own loop, the Central Peninsula league, which includes Los Altos, Woodside, San Carlos, Sequoia and Palo Alto.

The invitational league has invited other schools in the Jefferson Union High school district to join the loop to form, ultimately, a regular North Peninsula league in soccer.

All invitational league games are played at 3 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays.

After the league schedule is completed next month, playoffs will be held to determine a league champion, which will play the champion of the Central Peninsula league for the over-all Peninsula title.

Robert W. Parr coaches South San Francisco. The Colts are guided by Robert Rienecker.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

SINCE WE'VE spent so much time over the last two months, inspired by Thanksgiving and Christmas, cooking and baking fancy dishes, it seems like an excellent idea to concentrate on simple meals. I've been checking through my files and books and here are some ideas that should appeal to all of us.

This first recipe is a good one to keep in your files because you can keep the basic ingredients—meat and potatoes—on your pantry shelf. And how often do you rush in after a meeting (or a day out with the children), and wish there was something you could whip up without going out shopping? The frozen brussels sprouts can wait in your freezer until you need them too.

CORNED-BEEF CASSEROLE

1 can of corned beef
4 or 5 potatoes
1 package frozen Brussels sprouts

Quarter the potatoes and boil until tender. Then arrange potatoes, thickly sliced corned beef and thawed Brussels sprouts in a shallow casserole. Sprinkle with a half teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, a little marjoram, thyme and one cup beef or chicken bouillon or consomme. Bake covered in moderate oven, 350 degrees for a half hour.

EVERYONE (or almost everyone) likes Mexican food. So a recipe for chili con carne will fit in nicely with our easy ideas for today.

CHILI CON CARNE

2 cans kidney beans
2 pounds ground beef
1 can tomatoes, No. 2 size
2 cups sliced onion
3 cloves garlic, minced
¼ cup oil
4 tablespoons chili powder
¾ teaspoon whole oregano
1 teaspoon salt

SAUTE ONIONS and garlic in oil. Add beef and brown. Add ¼ cup water and other ingredients. Cover and simmer one hour, stirring frequently. Serves 6. Note: add or subtract the amount of chili powder according to your family. Some like it hot and some do not.

I GUESS everyone has a recipe for Italian spaghetti and we use if over and over, changing here and altering there according to the ingredients we have on hand. This recipe has been a standby for me for years. If I make it exactly as called for in this recipe, it's delicious and if I change it a bit here and there it's still delicious. Isn't that a grand recipe to have? You can't make a mistake with it.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE

½ cup sliced onions
2 tablespoons bacon fat
1 pound ground meat
1 peeled clove garlic, minced
1 seeded green pepper, minced
1 can tomatoes, No. 2½ can
2 cans tomato sauce, 8-ounce
1 can mushrooms, with liquid, 8-ounce
1 cup water
1½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon powdered sage
1 teaspoon rosemary
1 bay leaf
¼ teaspoon powdered thyme

Saute onions in fat in large kettle until tender. Then add meat and continue cooking, stirring frequently, until it loses red color. Add all ingredients. Simmer uncovered for 1½ hours or until sauce is thick enough to please you, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking. While this is going on, get busy with making these meatballs and cooking the spaghetti.

MEATBALLS

1 pound ground meat
½ cup dried bread crumbs
¾ teaspoon cornstarch
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ cup milk
¾ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons oil
1 pound spaghetti

Combine the beef, crumbs, egg, milk, and the three-fourths teaspoon cornstarch and salt. Form into small balls. Heat salad oil in skillet; then brown the balls on all sides. About 20 minutes before sauce is done, cook spaghetti tender in boiling salted water and add meat balls to sauce. Serve sauce over drained hot spaghetti.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

WITH CHRISTMAS and New Year's past, only a few social notes remain from the holiday season. Spring now seems just around the corner and the flurry of activity centered around fashion trends for '64 makes up the bulk of the news for this week.

Once more at home in Westlake are Mr. and Mrs. John Madrosen and son Clark. The Madrosens took advantage of the school holidays to travel to Washington to spend Christmas with their eldest son John, his wife and two charming babies.

THE GEORGE MASONS of Pacifica hosted their annual New Year's Eve Dutch treat party in the recreation room of their home.

Councilman Mason and his delightful wife, Connie, have been giving this party for a number of years and it is always one of the area's gayest gatherings, with up to 40 couples drooping by to help greet the new year.

THE "KEGGLERETTES" observed the holidays with a cocktail party and gift exchange before taking to the lanes to bowl.

Members were restricted to gifts valued at one dollar or less, but many of the little rememrances appeared to have edged over a little on the limit!

MR. AND MRS. LAURENCE ROGERS and sons, David and Keith, spent the holidays in "quarantine" as the boys suffered through bouts with the measles.

Though the family couldn't leave the house, not even to try out a new bicycle Santa left under the tree, their friends did come by and the family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKenzie at dinner on Chirstmas Day.

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS TRICERI of Daly City took their family to the snow country for the New Year's holidays.

The Triceri's enjoyed the snow sports and a lovely midwinter vacation at Strawberry.

MR. AND MRS. SHELDON SMITH of Westlake took a short New Year's vacation in the Redwoods.

THE ANTHONY CAIN family has returned from a holiday jaunt to visit relatives in Los Angeles.

ROBERT FOPPIANO has been named head chef for the stag dinner being planned by the men of Our Lady of Mercy Catholic church.

The pre-festival event will be held on January 24 and advance rumors, supplied by Mrs. Jack Rose, indicate that guest will be treated to a delicious dinner of crab chiappino.

THE ADULT ORCHESTRA will begin a new semester of work tomorrow evening and a plea has gone out for violinists and obeists.

The classes, spnsored by the department of adult education in conjunction with the Westlake Music Center, are conducted by Howard Loeffler in the music hall of Westmoor High school. Classes begin at 7 p.m. each Thursday and end at 9:45 p.m. Music is supplied and the only charge made for the instruction is a one dollar registration fee.

Persons interested in joining may call the Music Center, PL 6-2434, for further information or they may attend the first meeting on Thursday.

MRS. VICK ITALLERICO, co-chairman of the Holy Angels Parish annual spring fashion show has announced the appointment of the women to serve as hostesses for the affair.

Mr. Lee Caserza, hostess chairman, introduced her hostesses at the special meeting of the Women's guild on Thursday evening.

Named by Mrs. Caserza were: Mrs. Pat Campbell, Mrs. Vicki Caterina, Mrs. Betty Conlan, Mrs. Ann Coltrell, Mrs. Florence Hyland, Mrs. Ruth Lapchet, Mrs. Barbara McCarthy, Mrs. Dena Martyn, Mrs. Leah Morch, Mrs. Katherine Moran, Mrs. Julia Padreddi, Mrs. Lois Payne, Mrs. Adrian Peyracain, Mrs. Lillian Reardon, Mrs. Jan Sabbatani, Mrs. Joan Sharpen, Mrs. Josephine Stokes and Mrs. Kay Vasille.

Tickets for the show, to be held in the Grand Ball room of the Fairmont hotel on February 8 will go on sale this weekend. Saturday they may be purchased between 12:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. in the parish hall. On Sunday they may be purchased in the hall following each mass and Monday they will be sold between 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

THE MISSION CIRCLE of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court St. Mary 1155, was organized at a special meeting last Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Carl Rollandi of Daly City.

The circle, the product of the efforts of Mrs. DeWitt Brunson, Archdiocesan of World Missions, will be presided over by Mrs. Lorraine De Fanti, the court's World Missions chairman and meetings will be held the second Friday of each month.

According to Mrs. Harvey Mumford, court publicity director, the group will take as its first project the making of hospital gowns for use in Catholic mission hospitals. Members of the circle will be very grateful for any old white shirts which they can remake for this purpose. Anyone interested in donating shirts or in becoming a member of the circle is urged to contact Mrs. De Fanti, JU 7-7912.

The next circle meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. James Gallagher, 478 Woodward street and any member of the court is invited to attend, Mrs. Mumford said.

In other news from Court St. Mary 1155, the final touches are being put on the plans for the annual spring fashion show. This year the event will be held in the parish hall of Our Lady of Perpetual Help on Saturday, February 1.

Mrs. Jon Gilmour is chairman of the show which will feature fashions from The Fashion of Westlake. Reservations may be made at the next meeting of the court on January 16.

MRS. BARBARA DEGNEN, Mrs. Ann Clement and Mrs. Eleanor Battaglia are collecting rummage for the annual rummage sale sponsored by the Altar society of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica. Anyone having appliances, articles of clothing or other usable rummage are urged to call 355-4230 to arrange for pickup.

Coast Art Guild Meets

The Art guild of Pacifica will hold an election of officers at its regular meeting Monday, 8 p.m. at the American Legion hall in Rockaway beach

Election of officers will take place of a guest speaker. Nominations will be taken from the floor to supplement the nominating committee's recommendations.

Up for election are Otis Strong, president: Louis Hays and Sydney Clark, vice presidents; Kathryn Shields, secretary, and Ruth Rosengard, Belle Nau, John Pattrson, Luther Spraker, and Roberta Ewald, directors.

Trudy Bartell and Langston Bowen will serve as hosts.

The guild will welcome Carlyn Curtis of 907 Crespi drive as a new member. Members of the board were treated to a buffet supper at the home of Sherri Thomas recently.

Cub Pack 248

These members of Cub Scout Pack 248 won achievement awards at the Pack's Christmas meeting last month:

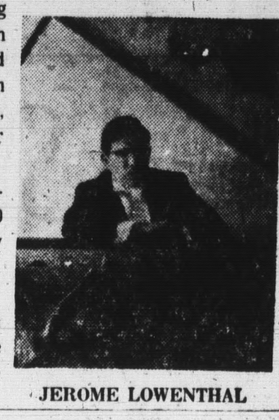
David Carella, Randy Christ, Michael Montanos, Curtis Blake, Alan Bauer, George Rally, Ron Noere Joel Weinberg, Steven Tenud, Steven Clarfield, Bill Block, Bruce Belotz, Mark Mayhew and Bruce Faulkner.

Lowenthal to Perform With S.F. Symphony

Jerome Lowenthal, young American pianist, will perform Bartok's Concerto for Piano and Orchestra No. 2 with the San Francisco Symphony orchestra, under Josef Krips, conductor and musical director.

The Opera House performances will take place at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and Friday (January 15 and 17) and 2 p.m. Thursday (January 16).

Krips also will conduct Anton Webern's Passacaglia and the Symphony in C Major (The Great) by Franz Schubert.



JEROME LOWENTHAL

'School Library' Subject of Meet

The Crocker-Pershing P-TA will hold its first unit meeting in 1964 on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. at Crocker school.

"School Libraries," is the subject of speaker Robert Muller instructional materials consultant, Jefferson Elementary school district. Crocker school will shortly open its new library.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting. The third grade mothers will be hostesses.

By DON MILLER

ALMOST BEFORE it seems possible, it's the the eighth day of the new year. The New Year's Eve noisemakers have been put away, the champagne glasses—one or two less than before—are back on the shelves, the Christmas tree has unceremoniously—or in some cases, ceremoniously—succumbed in the fireplace and Junior's new electric train already has experienced a frightful derailment.

For one Daly City family, however, the holidays almost came and went without the mother of the family because of a near-tragedy, caused by the type of prank or act of vandalism that is a perennial problem for police agencies.

It's the BB shot or hunter's bullet, stray or otherwise, that wings its way through a living room window or the windshield of a car.

In this instance, it was the windshield of an auto driven by Frank E. Seagrave of 293 St. Francis boulevard. Mrs. Seagrave was at her husband's side at the time. She sat down later, thought about what had happened and wrote this poignant letter, which we'd like to pass on to you today:

"Sunday, December 15, at approximately 4:15 p.m., a bullet was fired at my car. It hit the shatterproof glass directly at ear level as I sat on the passenger side. We were driving on Junipero Serra boulevard.

"Fragments of the glass were driven into the back of my hair. Thanks to modern science, the glass deflected the bullet and a fatality was averted. These are the cold facts of the episode as it occurred.

"IF my husband had been driving an old car with plain glass, the bullet would have penetrated my head through the ear and today a family of four children would be without a mother.

"There would be a great hunt on for the culprits and families would be plunged into grief at the enormity of the tragedy. This letter is a heart-felt plea to the parents of the boys with the rifle to take it away before such tragedy does occur.

"Next time—and there will be a next time—they and their victim might not be so lucky.

"My husband is a hunter and our children have been taught to respect and fear guns. An adult mind can explain to the young boy the mechanism and dangers of weapons but the young mind cannot think on an adult level when it comes to differentiating between the handling of guns for hunting and so-called pranks, such as shooting at hapless birds, telephone wires and the deadly game of using passing cars as a target.

"Gun-handling juveniles should be under adult supervision at all times.

"I humbly thank God for sparing me to my dear husband and family. I sincerely hope that this letter will be the means of saving families from grief due to the thoughtlessness and deliberate carelessness of parents giving children murder weapons and labeling them 'toys.' "

BACK IN OCTOBER, some Pacificans may have wondered what all the fuss was about during a tidal wave alert when newscasters were reporting that in Hawaii, the tidal wave was hardly noticeable. They asked later why the tidal wave shouldn't have been cancelled in Pacifica—thus eliminating the need of revacuating residents from low-lying areas near the ocean.

Pacifica City Manager Karl Baldwin's office has since released an informational bulletin on tidal wave warnings and why the peculiar nature of a tidal wave requires the type of precaution city officials exercised when the October alert was received.

Tidal waves, the bulletin notes, are generated principally by earthquakes below the sea. Not all of these quakes start a sea wave rolling and not all sea waves are large enough to cause any damage.

However—and here is the crux of the matter—a sea wave that is detectable but not dangerous at one point my be dangerous at another as a result of what is called "piling up" action caused by differences in the shape or height of the ocean floor or coastline.

A sea waves moves outward from its point of origin in all directions at a speed that depends upon the depth of the ocean. In very deep waters, this speed may exceed 570 miles an hour.

With this kind of speed, early warnings of a tidal wave are essential.

A SEA WAVE may be only a foot or two high in depth and 80 to 100 miles long. When it reaches shallow water, however, it decreases in speed and length but increases in height because of a tremendous volume of water in motion that tends to "pile up" before the wave dissipates its forces.

In answering why the Pacifica alert was not cancelled when the wave was reported to be negligible in Hawaii, the bulletin has this to say:

"The answer is twofold. First, we must be cautious about the changing effect of a tidal wave. It has a tendency to leave one area untouched and then severely damage another area at some point beyond.

"Second, we can safely act only on the basis of official communications from competent authorities who understand this phenomenon of nature. We cannot, in other words, act upon just any report that we may hear, no matter how reassuring, unless we have established its official reliability.

"Too many lives are potentially at stake to permit us to take this kind of risk."

One week after that October alert, if you'll recall, a second tidal wave alert was received by Pacifica authorities and again, the city's Civil Defense and Disaster Corps were mobilized.

However, on this occasion the California Disaster Office was better prepared to pass on essential tidal wave data to coastal communities and as the result of the information that was disseminated, it was possible for Pacifica City officials to determine that no tidal wave would occur in Pacifica and thus, no evacuation would be necessary.

That information included reports from Hawaii and the Aleutian Islands that no noticeable tidal surge had occurred, more reports from points in Oregon that nothing had happened when the wave was due to reach those areas and finally, a report from the state's disaster office that Crescent City and Eureka also had not experienced any sort of wave at the time one should have reached those two cities.

Summing up, the bulletin declares:

"The city will take every step to insure that no unnecessary evacuations are ever ordered. But when an evacuation is ordered, residents may rest assured that the decision has been made in their best interests and for the protection of their families."

All of which seems to indicate that a tidal wave will never take Pacifica by surprise.

For Safety's Sake

PETE TRAPENESE, president of the Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce, straps in his four-year-old daughter Lisa, in one of the children's safety straps being featured in the service organizational seat belt clinic this weekend in the Serra Bowl parking lot on Junipero Serra boulevard. In addition to selling and installing regular safety belts, the jaycees will be selling safty flares and seat belt retractors. Hours of the clinic Saturday and Sunday are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (Post-Times photo)

Noted Daly City Pioneer Irene Meussdorffer Dies

Irene Meussdorffer, the last survivor of a prominent San Francisco family dating back to Gold Rush days, never forgave modern society for forcing her out of the family mansion in Daly City.

Miss Meussdorffer was the talented and gentle daughter of a German immigrant who made a fortune selling hats to the miners.

She received a European education in the grand manner and in 1918 returned to live a quiet life on the Peninsula.

But in March, 1960, she left the 22-room, gingerbread family mansion to make way for the new George Washington Elementary school, and moved half a block away to 125 Whittier. Two weeks later the vacant mansion burned to the ground.

Last December 11 the 75-year-old woman was burning trash in her back yard when her clothing caught fire. A neighbor put out the flames, but Miss Meussdorffer refused to get medical attention.

A friend, Mrs. Isabelle Kenny, 115 Harvard street, summoned a doctor Wednesday night, but it was too late. Miss Meussdorffer died at 2 a.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Kenny said her friend never really recovered from the shock of having to move out of the family home.

"She never forgave them," Mrs. Kenny said.

Miss Meussdorffer was the youngest child of John Meussdorffer, who came to California to look for gold but instead made his fortune making hats in South San Francisco.

Coast Gives Tree Seeds

The annual distribution of evergreen tree seedlings by the Park, Beach and Recreation department has been set for Saturday, Department Head Eldred Lokker announces.

Seedlings will be available between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Corporation Yard office on the corner of Palmetto and Montecito in the Sharp Park district.

As in the past, donations will be received for the purpose of recreation center building development. A minimum donation has been set at one cent per seedling in order to cover the purchase cost of the trees.

The purpose for making the tree seedlings available is for community beautification, particularly on the slope areas designated as tree planting easements or green belts. Property owners with these easements are encouraged to obtain as many seedlings as are necessary for slope coverage, Lokker said.

Two Children And Mother Are Injured

A South San Francisco mother and her two children were injured Thursday when she asked one of them to move into the back seat of the family car because it was safer.

Mrs. Barbara Belcher, 44, 354 Alta Mesa drive, told police she was driving eastward on Arroyo drive at 1:30 p.m. with her son Paul, 9, and daughter, Charlene, 6, in the car.

Paul was in the front seat, she said, and she asked him to climb into the rear. As the lad moved, she related, he apparently hit the defroster switch.

Noticing this, she reached to turn off the defroster, and hit a parked car, in front of 329 Arroyo.

She and the children suffered bruises and abrasions, police say, and their 1955 sedan was demolished. The big car they hit suffered damage to a front fender and tire. Mrs. Belcher and the children were then taken to Peninsula hospital by her husband, Stanley, report police.

OFFICE RANSACKED

Dr. Lawler Drees of 185 School street, Daly City, reported to police last week that someone had ransacked his office. No narcotics were taken, police said.

Repairs Set For Buri Buri Park in S.S.F.

The South San Francisco Recreation and Parks department has announced that, effective Monday, Buri Buri park will undergo a major redevelopment as a part of the city's capital improvements projects.

Slated for development in the months of January and February are:

Installation of automatic irrigation system; relocation of tot-lot; asphalting of the parking lot and play areas; installation of a new picnic area, and relocation of the existing basketball courts.

"The work has started on the irrigation system and for the month of January all activity in the park will be concentrated on the asphalt and basketball court tendent Bob Maxey.

"It is expected that the redevelopment will be completed by the end of February and that the park will then be re-opened for full use," Mazey stated.

Two Promoted To Lt. Colonel

Two North county Air Force reservists have been promoted to lieutenant colonel.

They are C. J. Cunningham Jr., of Pacifica, and Elmer H. Rae of Daly City.

POTTED PLANTS STOLEN

Nadje Susoeff of 269 Palisades drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen potted plants from her residence.

LEO RYAN, assemblyman from South San Francisco, announced his intention to seek re-election to the post. Ryan was the county's first Democratic assemblyman in 106 years of the office. Ryan was recently given an important appointment by Speaker Jesse Unruh to the audit committee. The former mayor is also vice chairman of the key assembly education committee.

Cowboy Can't Handle Car

Harry L. Vonberg should have stuck to hosses.

Vonberg, 60-year-old cowboy on the Shamrock ranch near Pacifica, ventured out in his old sedan Wednesday but didn't even make it to the highway.

Highway patrolmen found the car piled up in a ditch near the entrance gate.

Westborough Annexation Is Approved

Boundaries of the proposed annexation to South San Francisco of the built-up part of the new Westborough subdivision were approved Friday by the county boundary commission.

The proposal will now go back to the county local agency formation commission for public hearing. It is expected that the matter will be set for hearing at the February 20 meeting of the commission.

South San Francisco previously annexed 537 acres of Westborough under the uninhabited land act. The present proposal, to annex 123 acres of inhabited land, will require an election.

Tot Swallows Turpentine

A one-year-old girl was rushed to Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco Friday night in serious condition after she swallowed two ounces of turpentine while her mother at 173 Miriam street, was visiting in Daly City.

Daly City police dispatcher Richard Seguine said Mrs. Ann Quiros, of San Francisco, brought the infant into police headquarters last night at 6:30 p.m.

"My little girl swallowed turpentine," she said. "Please call an ambulance."

BETTER BUSINESS

Bureau Outlines Its Objectives

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

WE ARE in the second week of 1964. The past decade of world-wide political and economic changes is giving our American enterprise system a stiff challenge.

Conceding some businesses have abused our "fifth freedom," the freedom to make a choice, it is still free business enterprise that stimulates the constant demand for goods and services that has made the United States the wealthiest nation in the world.

To keep this American enterprise system invulnerable to attack, the needs and wants of the people must be satisfied and to do this, action is needed at a local level to build up public understanding and confidence in business.

THE MEMBERS of the Board of Directors of the Better Business Bureau of San Mateo county are representative of the thousands of serious businessmen throughout the United States and in many parts of the world who give unstinting of their time and money to serve as officers, directors and committee members in the bureau program—which is the program of business.

Some of the activities and services provided by the San Mateo Better Business Bureau are to:

1. Furnish factual information to employees of members and to the public at large concerning the reliability of concerns and their offerings.
3. Render confidential report complaints of unfair and unethical business practices.
3. Render onfidential reports to members concerning the reputation and reliability of individuals and companies with whom they contemplate doing business. Bureaus do not report credit ratings.
4. Serve members with factual information on charitable solicitations and other appeals
5. Expose and curb frauds and unfair practices.
6. Protect the public from fraud and deceit. Protect the community buying power against loss to fraudulent promotions.
7. Cooperate with federal, state and local authorities in the investigation and prosecution of frauds.
8. Help business maintain high ethical standards of advertising and selling and keep the "truth in advertising."
9. Acting as mediator between public and business in handling consumer complaints.
10. Protect responsible business from unfair advertising and selling practices; develop and promote fair standards for advertising and selling; promote fair competition in advertising and selling practices.
11. Help business to regulate itself and thus reduce necessity for increased government regulation and restrictive legislation.
12. Protect the nation's health by curbing the distribution of fraudulent and worthless cures.
13. Investigate advertising and selling practices.
14. Provide advertising counselling services to members so that their advertising complies with government regulations and bureau recommendations.
15. Promote adult economic consumer education to aid the public in every-day money management and buying problems.
16. Provide films to schools to give students a better understanding of business.

Home Mutual Sets Record

Savings account holders at Home Mutal Savings and Loan Association received a record-breaking $2,076,162 in interest payments for the fourth quarter of 1963 ending December 31.

This is the largest quarterly interest disbursement in Home Mutual's 79-year history, according to Sherman Miller, executive vice president and managing officer of the association.

B of A Year Hits Record

Strong earnings and record highs in resources, deposits and loans marked Bank of America's 1963 year-end report.

Deposits totaled $13,242,505,625, an increase of $1,146,540,558 over the same date last year.

Total resources rose to $14,693,851,459, an increase of $1,276,710,650 over a year ago.

Rudolph A. Peterson, president, announced the totals.

He reported that net operating earnings rose to $90,508,827, or $3.18 per share on 28,480,000 shares outstanding. This compares with $83,126,716 or $2.92 per share earned during 1962.

Bank Starts New Service

Inauguration of a professional billing service for physicians and dentists was announced Monday by Bank of America as a new addition to its business services.

In making the announcement, Frank M. Dana, executive vice president, said that during the experimental stage the new service had reduced the time spent on bookkeeping for some physicians and dentists from 22 to 24 hours per month.

The bank, presently processing the automated payrolls of more than 40 hospitals and clinics in the state, estimates that there are some 30,000 licensed physicians and 11,000 dentists in California.

DAMAGE REPORTED

The J. N. Pitcher company at 6825 Mission street, Daly City, reported to police that someone had broken windows and gauges on one of its trucks.

New Convalescent Hospital Will Open in Pacifica

The new Linda Mar Convalescent hospital at 751 San Pedro road in Pacifica is scheduled to open late this month, hospital officials have announced.

The facility will have 60 beds in private, semi-private and three-bed rooms. The building will be one story.

Fully-licensed physicians have been invited to apply for staff privileges. A licensed registered nurse will be on duty in the hospital 24 hours a day, officials said.

The professional staff will be directed by Lynn W. Norris, administrator. He has had 2f years' experience in hospita' administration and formerly was administrator of Hillsdale Manor Convalescent hospital in San Mateo.

Assistant administrator will be Eileen M. Desmond. She also will serve as director of nursing. She is a graduate of St Louis university in St. Louis. Mo., and has been associated with nursing education and hospital supervision for severa' years.

Hospital officials also have invited Pacifica organizations and individuals to participate in providing nonprofessional services to patients—such as volunteer work.

Persons interested in this may call Miss Desmond at 355-5351.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

BETHLEHEM LUTHERAN

Church Notes Anniversary

Members of Bethlehem Lutheran church will observe the completion of the church's first year with a pot luck dinner and anniversary business meeting Sunday, January 19.

The church has been holding services and Sunday school in Pacifica Heights school since its opening.

In the business meeting, congregation members will gather in session to elect a church council, adopt a budget for 1964 and act on other church matters.

Present officers include Jack Vogee, president; Clayton Oldaker, vice president; Howard Loeffler, secretary and Herman Langbehn, treasurer.

Since it officially organized January 20 of last year, Bethlehem Lutheran has grown to 250 baptized members and 105 confirmed members.

The church serves homes along Skyline boulevard in San Bruno and Westborough and the northern part of Pacifica.

The church plans to build a new sanctuary in the Fairmont subdivision of Pacifica.

During Sunday morning worship services January 19, the Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor of the church, will speak on: "Salvation—Who Needs It?"

Evangelist Architect to Speak Here

Special evangelistic services will be held at the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene beginning Sunday.

The evangelist is the Rev. George Schriber of Glendora, Calif. As a national evangelist Rev. Schriber travels throughout the United States.

Besides preaching Schriber designs churches for construction. He has designed two in the Bay Area. They are the first Church of the Nazarene in San Jose and the First Church of the Nazarene in Hayward.

During the meeting Rev. Schriber will be showing slides of some churches which he has designed. Also he will show slides of Nicaragua where his daughter is now a missionary nurse. He will tell of his trip to Nicaragua when he took his daughter to her new mission field.

Services on Sunday are at 10:50 a.m. and 7 p.m. During the week the services will be at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Vernon E. Thomas is pastor.

Annual Meet Set by Judea

Members of Temple Judea will attend their annual congregational meeting next Wednesday evening, at 8 p.m., at the Lake Merced boathouse.

Reports of the various temple committees will be given on the progress of temple work during the past year. Plans and programs for the coming year will be given.

Election of trustees is on the agenda. A question-and-answer period where congregants are encouraged to ask pertinent questions about the temple and its operations and to express their views is also planned.

Temple Judea's new synagogue on Brotherhood is rapidly nearing completion, and plans call for services to be held there at the end of March.

Rev. Hansen Plans Talks

Pastor Kenneth Hansen, of the Westlake Lutheran church, will speak the next five Sundays on the character of Christ during the Epiphany season.

Pastor Hansen will touch upon the following character and aspects of Christ; duty, sympathy, mercy, power and patience.

Yesterday, the Sunday school teachers met for a hour and a half of inspiration and training as they concentrated on the theme for the year, "Life in Christ." Each month the teachers will study the various aspects of what it means to live in Christ.

Mrs. Arthur Jaranson is a chairman of the board of parish education.

Bar Mitzvah Is Scheduled

Sanford Rabinowitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Rabinowitch, will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah Friday at Temple Judea's Sabbath evening services. The services will be held at the Temple Methodist church, 19th avenue and Junipero Serra boulevard at 8:30 p.m.

Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Harold Wachter will officiate.

Mrs. Abe Rabinowitch will do the candle blessing and the couple will host the oneg shabbat (social) following services.

Plan 'Blue Letter Days'

The Westside Baptist church has purchased a new church parsonage, at 3370 Longview drive in Pacific Heights, and Pastor A. David Donnelly and his family moved into the parsonage this past weekend.

"Blue Letter Days" are being observed in the Westside Baptist church Sunday school for the next eight weeks. The program was started this past Sunday.

A large banner, with the outlined words "Westside," appears in the front of the Church school auditorium. Each Sunday that the total attendance exceeds the attendance of the previous week, one of the letters of the word Westside will be filled in with blue.

The object is to fill one of these letters each week. The class who shows the highest average attendance at the close of the Blue Letter Days will be given a prize.

Reverend Donnelly will speak on "Five Reason Why Christians Should Tithe" at Sunday's 11 a.m. worship.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

My parents and I are at war. They say I'm on the phone too much. I have never been on the phone for more than 30 minutes at one time. I have friends who spend hours on the phone. I feel a teen-ager should have the right to use the phone as often as she sees fit.

After all, my social life can be ruined if I didn't have a phone. I ask for the phone from 3 to 6 p.m. and the rest of the family can have it the rest of the day.

I don't feel that is too demanding. After all as you like to use the phone also. As said in your column last week, we teen-agers live in the house, too. What is your solution to this problem?

A Teen-age Telephone.

Dear Teen-age Telephone:

Get a job and buy your own phone and have it put into your room. Or it may be worth five or six dollars a month to your parents just to keep peace in the family.

If you must share the telephone, I feel it is enough to only allow three phone calls a day. That is, not three incoming and three outgoing, but three in total and not any to exceed 15 minutes.

If you can't take care of your business in 15 minutes, you should go to the other person's house.

After all, there may be an urgent phone call trying to get through to your family and if you tie up the line with a lot of chatter that is only important to you, then you need a lesson on how not to be so selfish.

Since there are other members in your family, they like to use the phone also. As you say, they live there, too. Demanding the phone from 3 to 6 is ridiculous. If you are that important, you don't need a phone. You need a secretary.

I'm sure your "social life" will not suffer if you were allowed only three 15 minute phone calls per day. Don't be so quick to think your family owes you so much.

Learn to share. Selfishness is like a hallowe'en mask.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 14 years old and my my mother still thinks I'm too she is afraid. She wants to get to know the boy before he takes me out but that the boy can't just come to the house to pick me up without having met my parents.

She wants the boy to spend the evening at our house — the first date — then after they know him I can go out with him. I am an only child and they really henpeck me.

All my friends are going out and their parents are understanding.

The Shut-in:

Dear Shut-in:

Your parents sound Victorian. Tell them this is not the Middle Ages. They must realize that teen-agers must have a normal life. What boy would be willing to go through all that trouble just to take a girl out?

And who is to say that just because he passes the test to your parents' satisfaction that when he is out with you, he won't turn into a bear with twenty hands? You should be dating, it is very normal.

As I've said many times, if parents raise their children right, they won't have anything to worry about.

Some parents are afraid to face the fact that their little babies are grown up and want to spread their wings. Other parents are just over-protective.

Both are wrong and can cause their children and the future of their children great harm.

Let your teen-agers grow up. Guide them—don't guard them. No matter who tells us about the mistakes we make, we all want to make our own. That's part of growing up.

You can't learn to swim unless you get into water. Some people take longer to learn to swim than others. Parents should be lifeguards just in case. But don't stand between the water and your teen-ager. If you do, the minute you turn your back, he'll be in the water anyway.

The Top Ten

Here is a list of the top ten tunes that teen-agers are listening to in the North county:

1. Out of Limits — The Marketts
2. He, Little Cobra — The Rip-Cords
3. Dominique — The Singing Nuns
4. The Nitty Gritty — Shirley Ellis
5. Sufin' Bird — The Trashmen
6. Forget Him — Bobby Rydell
7. There! Ive Said It Again — Bobby Vinton
8. Be True to Your School-In My Room — The Beach Boys
9. Drag City — Jan and Jean
10. Can I Get a Witnesss — Marvin Gaye

No Polio in S.M. County

San Mateo County Health and Welfare Director Dr. Harold Chope last week had happy year-end news for the county — polio was wiped out in 1963.

Not one case occurred in the county during the 12-month period.

Santa Clara county had almost as cheering news. Health Officer Dr. Mary Clark reported there was only one case of polio for the city and county.

San Francisco also reported that it had eliminated polio from the list of communicable diseases in 1963.

And on a state-wide level, Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director, similarly reported polio is virtually extinct.

There were only 14 cases of paralytic polio for 1963, a record low for California.

He, too, attributed conquest of the crippling disease to the medical profession and thousands of volunteers who conducted K. O. Polio campaigns throughout the state.

Credit for banishment of polio as the No. 1 crippler and killer of children was given wholeheartedly locally by Dr. Chope to the San Mateo County medical society and Dr. Howard Lindsey, who served as chairman of the K. O. Polio campaign. The campaign last year saw the immunization of about 70 per cent of the total population and about 90 per cent of the children.

The San Mateo county health department's records dating back to 1930 show that in that year there were 29 cases of polio, representing 37.1 per 100,000 population.

The population level, of course, was relatively low. In 1940 there were three cases.

A major epidemic swept through the county in 1948 when 113 cases, representing an incidence of 52.8 per 100,000 occurred.

The cases were also marked by severe crippling. The year 1952 brought 114 cases; 1953, 80; 1954 the highest incidence, 135 cases or 42.6 per 100,000 of the growing population.

In 1956 there were 70 cases and that year the Salk vaccine began to work its miracles and together with the development of Sabin oral vaccine, polio cases began dropping in the succeeding years to 13, 10, 11, 7 cases, two and finally last year none.

On the satte level, Dr. Merrill said the department will spur its efforts to curb the sharply rising incidence of venereal disease. He said VD in California has increased at an alarming rate and that it is now the top ranking communicable disease problem.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

What To "Expect" From The Restaurateurs

1963 was a "long weekend" in more ways than one. As of this writing, most of you should now be well on the way with New Year's resolutions. Being in pretty close contact with clubs and restaurants during the past year, it wouldn't surprise me if some of the resolutions went something like this (and if I'm wrong, don't stop me until this is finished 'cause writing a column on New Year's Day, which this was, is not like footin' a horn blowing in 1964) . . . Barney O'Malia, Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe (South Shore): Add more Greyhound bus schedules to his thriving Nevada casino. It not only gives folks a low budget vacation, but entertainment, as well . . . John Graziano, Brentwood Lodge: Keep the cocktail lounge fireplace well-stocked with logs while his customers enjoy the piano and organ music of Jimmy Pederson . . . Bruno Scatena, Joe's of Westlake: Limit his trips around the country so I can enjoy Sunday morn ham and eggs with him more often . . . Keith Williamson, Keith's Chicken and Steak House: Lease a fleet of home delivery trucks to take care of the great demand for just that. Business here has boomed since this extra service was added . . . Bill Harrah, Harrah's Club: Continue to present top names in show business, as always, Mickey Rooney set to open in the Lake Tahoe South Shore Room next Wednesday, January 8, at the conclusion of Jack Benny's current engagement . . . Enricketta Romano, Romano's Italian restaurant: Flip the pages of the family cook book and come up with some more menu treats for son, Enrico's popular shore side restaurant and cocktail lounge.

E. Romano

RON GIANNOTTI AND CHEF LOUIS DE MARZO, swank, new Surf House: Present a new experience in dining out to Peninsula and Bay Area folks who are ever on the look out for restaurants out-of-the-ordinary . . . Alma and her husband, chef Louis Allen, the Valdoro: They have resolved to acquaint more diners with their delicious cuisine and to remind them that a bar and cocktail lounge have been added to the scene since the restaurant's recent name changing from the Red Lantern . . . Ralph McEntyre, general manager of the Oakland Holiday Inn: Relax on the big name entertainment and center the action on the coffee shop, dining room, plus present a dance band for the evening dinner-dancing. Table tip: Prime Rib . . . Danny Piccinini, Burlingame's Danilo's: Vows to have a box lunch in the hand of all Giant fans in 1964. Those who plan to attend evening games: Take along thermos bottles and Danny will "soup" it to the brim . . . George Mardikian, Omar Khayyam's: Continue to take life easy and look the picture of health because of it . . . Phil Lehr, the San Francisco Steakery man: (This is a long shot, but it could come true) open a restaurant, such as he has in the Olympic Hotel, right on the Peninsula . . . Nick Finocchio, New Tivoli: Find space for more banquet rooms. This restaurant is most popular for any fun gathering.

Ron Giannotti

JOHNNY KAN, Kan's at the Hyatt House: If future business permits, add a pianobar to his upper-level Cantonese restaurant and import a "China Doll" from Hong Kong to do the "88ing." If this should happen, Hyatt House General Manager Ed Sullivan will have a "full course" entertaining staff under his Burlingame roof — what with Rosemarie, and Gary Long in the downstairs pianobar, and delightful dinner-dance music by Bob Wellman and his orchestra in the Scheherazade Room . . . Sil Oliva, Exposition Fish Grotto: Have the next heavy weight world's championship fight held in Candlestick Park (on a warm afternoon) . . . . . Luz Garcia, Sinaloa: Find a way to phone Mexican and South American booking agents so she won't have to pay for long distance calls. Even if Luz phones collect, she still seems to wind up with a bill—one way or another . . . Frank Dennison, Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn: Sometime during 1964, produce "South Pacific" (with the original cast, if possible). Frank is a "goer," so it has possibilities. Meanwhile, don't overlook "Sounds of the Islands" with Billy Tavake and his Samoans featuring the dances of "Princess Tiara"; plus dancing to the clever Nob Hill Trio in the Tiara Room . . .

Gary Long

LARRY SHULMAN AND BOB BLY, Edgemar (formerly Frazier's). Plans are set to make their hillside restaurant a "food beacon light" for the entire Bay Area. Completely redecorated from menu to deep freeze; attractive Edee Grant acting as hostess. . . Jimmy Romanello, the Morocco Room: Vows that one of these days he'll discover a trio that will go on to gain world wide fame. Knowing Jimmy and his son, Rich, as I do, this I believe. Now featured: Little "E" and Wally Cox. . . . . Nick Gust, Nick's restaurant acres in Pacifica: A low 70 golf score in the next tournament he enters. If this happens, Yours Truly will do the caddying on his next time out for as many holes as I can last . . . . Larry Bertolucci and his sister, Lola, Bertolucci's: Double the size of banquet room facilities because countless particular diners have come to realize that Bertolucci's delightful French, Italian cuisine is ideal for that special occasion. . . . Erwin Best, general manager of the distinguished Benjamin Franklin Hotel: See that the word is spread all over the land that the hotel's Penthouse suite is perfect for executive meetings and bridal showers.

Larry Shulman

EDITH LEHR, Lehr's Steakery in the Marina: Remind hubby Lew to purchase back her first oil painting which he sold so proudly to one of his restaurant customers. Yep, even if he has to give them a profit . . . Emerson Murfee, Villa Chartier and the Lanai: Keep right on breaking restaurant records for dinners served, just as he did during the past holidays. Food is great and so are drinks and service . . . Andre Dumont, La Touraine: Add a liquor license and banquet room to his "Frenchy" and wonderful Burlingame restaurant. Prediction: It will happen this year—and soon . . . Charles Mapes, Reno Mapes Hotel: Keep the Sky Room open 365 days a year like in the old days. This is one of the most beautiful club rooms in Nevada offering a view that might be beat, but I doubt it . . . Helen and Karl Resch, the Almaden Cafe del Rio twosome: Take a well-deserved year's vacation, instead of from Jan. 2 through Feb. 15 of this year . . . Frank and Fannie Torres, Montara Beach Hotel: The same vacation thought, only their vacation will start Jan. 5. Reopening date is set for Feb. 7, 1964 . . . Art Ivanhoe, the gent with the high white hat in Vince's Seafood and Italian restaurant: Keep right on preparing the many tasty soups that have made this restaurant menu so popular . . . Louis Bacchini, co-owner of Rocca's: Have his Christmas bills out of the way before Easter sets in . . . Britte Tonini, Princeton Inn: Carry on business at the Princeton Inn just as she and her late husband, loveable Milt, have done in the past.

Edith Lehr

Hillsdale Inn Features Entertainment—Dining

FRED WILLIAMS AND ROY NELSON, Hillsdale Inn: Bring back entertainment. Super dinners served here . . . Jack Holder, Uncle John's Pancake Houses: Think up something extra special again this year for the children. In 1963, he gifted the little ones with bicycles. Uncle John's menu is unusual and one for the entire family to enjoy. . . . Joe Finocchio, Finocchio's: A special "wall stretcher" for the summer trade. Finocchio's revues, which are produced by Lestra LaMonte, are known the world over. It's "sitting' and standin' room only" one hour after the front doors open . . . Fred and Jerry Rapp, South San Francisco Holiday Inn: Firmly resolve to add a few more acres to their present site and construct more units for in-coming guests.
